Applicants NATIONAL TRANSMISSION CORPORATION, (TransCo, for brevity) and the POWER SECTOR ASSETS AND LIABILITIES MANAGEMENT CORPORATION (PSALM, for brevity) through counsel, unto this most Honorable Commission, respectfully state that:

- TransCo is a government-owned and -controlled corporation (GOCC) created by virtue of Section 8 of Republic Act No. 9138, otherwise known as the "Electric Power Industry Reform Act of 2004," or the "EPIRA." It is responsible for the planning, construction, and centralized operation and maintenance of high-voltage transmission facilities nationwide including those of grid interconnections, as well as the provision of ancillary and other related services;
- TransCo is likewise mandated to provide open and non-discriminatory access to its transmission system to all electricity users and, accordingly, assess and collect transmission charges subject to the approval of this Honorable Commission;
- As a System Operator, TransCo shall also provide central dispatch of all generation facilities connected, directly or indirectly, to the transmission system in accordance with the dispatch schedule submitted by the market operator, taking into account outstanding bilateral contracts;
- Pursuant to Section 8 of the EPIRA, TransCo shall be wholly-owned by PSALM, a GOCC created pursuant to Section 49 of the EPIRA;
- Pursuant to Section 43(f) of the EPIRA, the Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC) developed, approved and adopted the Guidelines on the Methodology for the Setting of Transmission Working Rates (TWRG), a new methodology for setting the transmission wheeling rates of TransCo based on the Maximum Annual Revenue (MAR) Cap. The TWRG was promulgated on May 29, 2005;
- Article VII, (Regulatory Reset Process) of the TWRG sets forth the process that the ERC will follow in determining the price control arrangements that are to be made applicable for the Second Regulatory Period. On September 20, 2004, the ERC, consistent with Section 7.1.2 of the TWRG, published a Regulatory Reset Issues Paper (Issues Paper) to:

 - Guide TransCo in preparing the information required to be delivered by TransCo for the purposes of the Regulatory Reset Process; and
 - Specify the time by which such information shall be delivered;
- Section 1.2.2 of the Issues Paper requires TransCo to submit to the ERC its filing for the Regulatory Reset, including all data, reports, forecasts and information required by the TWRG for this process, not later than August 31, 2005. This Application, and its supporting annexes and attachments, fulfill that requirement. These reports, assumptions and the approach taken by TransCo in the preparation of this filing are summarized in Annex "A";

 - A report on the condition and lives of assets that are used in providing regulated transmission services and referred to in Section 4.8.3 of the TWRG. This requirement is the report prepared by SKM et al., hereto attached as part of Annex "B";
 - A determination of the Weighted Average Cost of Capital (WACC) referred to in Section 4.9 of the TWRG.  - A review of the Regulated Entity's proposed operating and maintenance expenditures (OPEX) referred to in Section 4.11 of the TWRG. Applicants have complied with this requirement through the report prepared by SKM, hereto attached to form part of this submission as Annex "E";
- In their desire to assist this Honorable Commission, the Applicants likewise engaged the services of an independent taxation expert, Atty. Edmundo P. Guevara, former Deputy Commissioner of the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) and with countless years of foreign contributions on the matter of taxation, to provide an opinion on the taxes for which TransCo and the prospective concessionaire may be liable. Atty. Guevara's report is attached hereto to form part of this submission as Annex "F".

- Article IV of the TWRG provides that TransCo submit to the ERC, in addition to the experts' reports identified above, the following information and forecasts:

This model calculates the efficiency factor and price path Smoothed Maximum Allowable Revenue (SMAR) for each year of the Second Regulatory Period. It provides for the outcomes and advice of the experts, or alternative assumptions, to be modeled. The model is capable of calculating the efficiency factor and price path under a range of values and scenarios for the major building blocks. Transco receives ISO certification

THE NATIONAL Transmission Corporation (TransCo) has received an ISO 9001:2000 international certification for quality management system for one of its key functional units, the Engineering Design and Construction (EDC) group.

TransCo president and chief executive officer Dr. Alan T. Ortiz said the distinction is "a welcome addition to our collective effort to continuously improve our systems and processes to provide even better service to the nation."

He also commended EDC's efforts to uphold the value of excellence in delivering quality service to electricity consumers by following the lead of four other TransCo functional groups which have attained the ISO seal of quality management - System Operations in October 2003; Visayas Operation and Maintenance in December 2004; North Luzon Operation and Maintenance in April 2005; and Project Management last month.

"We remain very focused on our commitment to get the ISO certification for the whole corporation by year-end. Other TransCo units are in various stages of ISO compliance at this point," he said.

EDC implements and manages power transmission projects under the Transmission Development Program (TDP) and ensures their timely completion in accordance with power industry standards. It takes the lead role in designing, constructing and expanding electric power transmission facilities nationwide and has a total manpower of 541.

It was awarded the ISO certificate last August 12 in a ceremony led by TÜV Philippines officials Christian Delamarian and Gerardo Ramon Querjeras and EDC Vice President Wilfredo SM. Pangilinan.

TÜV Philippines - an independent certification and inspection body - undertook the stringent audit procedures to check EDC's compliance with quality assurance standards and requirements of the International Organization for Standardization, a Geneva-based federation of around 130 countries.

Dr. Ortiz added that the state-owned transmission firm's customers - distribution utilities, electric cooperatives, as well as other directly connected industrial power users - and ultimately, households and end-users are assured of TransCo's high quality of service as affirmed by the ISO certification.
